officer of ZAAPPAAZ LLC,

Defendants.

AFFIDAVIT OF AZIM MAKANOJIYA

STATE OF TEXAS

COUNTY OF FORT BEND

BEFORE ME, the undersigned authority, on this day appeared Azim Makanojiya, who is personally known to me and who, being fully sworn on oath to tell the truth, testified as follows:

1. My name is Azim Makanojiya, I am the corporate representative and an officer of Zaappaaz, LLC ("Zaappaaz"). I am over eighteen, of sound mind, and am otherwise competent to make this Affidavit. I have personal knowledge of the facts stated herein.
2. When a customer of Zaappaaz places an order and either does not receive their order or has a complaint about their order, it is Zaappaaz's policy for the customer to e-mail Zaappaaz customer service regarding their complaint. When Zaappaaz's customer services representatives receive a complaint about an order from a customer, it is Zaappaaz's policy for their customer services representatives to log the complaint into the comment section of Zaappaaz's back-end database for a particular order. If there are no comments in the back-end database or refund issued for a particular order, Zaappaaz believes that the order was shipped to the customer.

3. It is my experience as an officer of Zaappaaz that when a customer does not receive an order they placed with Zaappaaz, the customer either disputes the charge for the order with their bank or credit card company or sends a complaint to Zaappaaz customer service. It is my experience as an officer of Zaappaaz that banks and credit card companies provide customers with the functionality of disputing a charge if the customer does not receive their purchased order. If a customer disputes a charge with Zaappaaz, this information would be located in Zaappaaz's back-end database or in the dispute section of the credit card statements.
4. By my instruction, personnel for Zaappaaz, Aftab Maredia, reviewed all orders in FTC's "comprehensive spreadsheet" that FTC considers "not known to have been delivered" and were not refunded. Mr. Maredia looked up each of these orders in Zaappaaz's back-end database and confirmed that none of these orders had any customer complaints logged regarding lack of delivery. Thus, Zaappaaz therefore believes that these orders were shipped to the customer.
5. Mr. Maredia further confirmed using the information in Zaappaaz's back-end database that at least 307 of the orders FTC considers "not known to have been delivered" were in fact delivered to the customer. Mr. Maredia compiled these order numbers into the spreadsheet, attached as Exhibit A, in Column B and added delivery information corresponding to each order in Column C. Thus, at least 307 of the orders used in FTC's damages calculation for orders "not known to have been delivered" were delivered to the customer.
6. It is my experience as an officer of Zaappaaz that FedEx removes tracking information from their website after 120 days. As such, Zaappaaz does not have the ability to manually search for tracking numbers of orders that FTC considers "not known to have been delivered" on FedEx's website as such information is no longer available. Further, FedEx reuses tracking numbers so manually searching for tracking numbers for orders that FTC considers "not known to have been delivered" on FedEx's website would not show accurate information if the tracking number was reused.
7. It is my experience as an officer of Zaappaaz that there are instances where Zaappaaz personnel will create shipping labels with a particular tracking number for an order that ultimately does not get used. This can happen for a variety of reasons such as shipping from different locations in an effort to speed up delivery times. Orders may have multiple shipping labels with different tracking numbers generated but only one tracking number is ultimately used for that order. This can lead to an order on FTC's "comprehensive spreadsheet" to appear as if it was not delivered based on one tracking number that was in fact delivered with a different tracking number.

Further, affiant sayeth not."

Azim Makanojiya

Subscribed and sworn to, before me, by Azim Makanojiya, on this the 3rd day of October, 2023, to certify which witness my hand and seal of office.
